

"Lion Brand" Clothing FOR BOYS

WHY
IT'S BEST

BEST

ITS BEST because there is more work and style on this make than any other.

The nice, wide, concave shoulders, the shoulder and sleeve pads, the double elbows in the sleeves, the double seats and knees, double stitched seams in the knickers.

IT'S THE BEST FITTING, THE BEST FINISHED, WITH LESS ALTERATIONS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE

Boys who have tried this make say its best.

We have the best assortment to show. Boys, come to us for a "Lion Brand" make.

"LION BRAND" does not cost all its worth, but is well worth what its costs.

AROUND THE TOWN

Don't forget the town meeting to-night in the Opera House.

A. R. Ruth of Salmon Arm, B. C., arrived in town on Tuesday evening on a business visit.

WANTED—Woman to go out washing by the day. Apply at Pioneer office.

The Alberta Livery has changed hands. Jack Baptist selling out to Vic Haag, formerly of Calgary.

The School Board will give their annual statement to the ratepayers at the town meeting to-night.

Delinquent taxpayers would do well to read the notice of the town Secretary-Treasurer in another column.

FORRENT—A good basement with concrete walls and floor, frost proof. Apply to H. L. Craig, Olds.

Attend the meeting to-night in the Opera House and hear the Town Council and School Board annual statements read and criticize them if you wish.

The celebration of Holy Communion will be held by the Church of England at Rugby Schoolhouse on Sunday, December 6th at 11 a.m.

Several complaints are heard about two culverts on the Kansas road, which are broken down and in very bad shape. The councilors of this district should take the matter up before damages results.

REAL ESTATE SNAP.—Five lots, small house, barns and chicken houses for sale cheap. Only five minutes walk from the post office. This offer will soon be taken up. If you want it come at once to the Pioneer office and get further information.

Didsbury now boasts of two automobiles, a touring car and a runabout. C. Hiebert owns the former and Myers and Siddons are the happy possessors of the latter, which got stuck about fifteen miles out of town one day this week and to be hauled in by Oxen.

Now is the time to get some cheap land. I will sell you 320 acres for $550. The warrants are here now and you can file on the land the moment that you get the scrip. Buying scrip does not interfere with your right to a home-stand and pre-emption. For further particulars apply to A. F. Maley.

FARMERS ATTENTION—The regular meeting for the members of the Alberta Farmers Association, will be held on Monday, December 7th at 1:30 p.m., in the Opera House. All members and other farmers are requested to attend this meeting, as president Joshua Fletcher will be present.

At the meeting of King Hiram Lodge A.F. & A.M. held on Tuesday night the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Master Mason, W. H. Smith; Senior Warden, J. A. Findlay; Junior Warden, A. G. Studer; Treasurer, C. L. Peterson; Secretary, J. O. Williams; Chaplain, G. B. Sexsmith; Tyler, H. E. Oswald.

Miss E. Phyllis Polmatier the eminent trombone soloist with the Polmatier Sisters Co. at the Opera House on Tuesday evening next.

A novel entertainment consisting of a concert and hand social will be held in the Rugby school house on Friday evening December 18th. Keep this date free and attend.

The fruit and confectionery store formerly owned by J. O. Williams has changed hands, Leigh Curtis now being the proprietor. Mr. Williams intends devoting his time to his brick-yard interests now.

Didsbury Lodge of the I.O.O.F. held an election of officers on Thursday night, November 26th, which resulted as follows: Past Grand, H. W. Chambers; Noble Grand, J. Anderson; Vice-Grand, R. Barron; Secretary, G. M. Gadde; Treasurer, A. Sheline.

G. B. Sexsmith has opened office and auction rooms in the Mower's block and is prepared to handle goods and chattels of all kinds on commission or buy outright. People having goods of any kind for sale will kindly list in time for general sale on Dec. 18th.

A hunting party which left town some time ago for the foothills, but whose names we will not mention as we wish to spare their feelings, returned at the beginning of the week with empty bags. They went about seventy miles west and did not secure even the tail of a coyote. They claim the Indians were to blame.

Municipal Election Matters

Mayorality candidates are now thicker than the proverbial blackberries, no less than four stating definitely that they are out for the position, they are Messrs. W. H. Smith, D. S. Shantz, D. C. Corbett and C. L. Peterson. Two or three others have been asked to run but so far have given no decided answer as to whether they will or not. The position of Councillor does not seem to be causing much excitement although it is as fully important that good men be selected for the position. The names mentioned publicly are Fred Moyle, Jonathan Good, M. B. Clemens and H. W. Chambers. So far the position of School Trustee has not been eagerly sought for, but such names as J. E. A. Macleod, Dr. A. J. Weart and Fred Moyle are mentioned in connection with the position.

Death of Mrs. J. B. Detwiler

The many friends of Mr. J. B. Detwiler will be sorry to learn of the death of his wife which occurred on Thursday night at their residence in Didsbury. Mrs. Detwiler was taken ill with pneumonia on Sunday night last, and while hopes for her recovery were not given up till within the last day or two the case was considered serious from the first. She was 64 years of age. The funeral will take place at the Memorial Church, Didsbury, on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Detwiler leaves no family but her husband to mourn her loss and who has the entire sympathy of the whole community.

Real Danger.
"There is the danger signal out on those ropes," warned the life guard.
"And is it really dangerous out there?" asked the bashful youth in the circle bathing suit.
"Well, I should say so! Sixteen summer girls have proposed to young men out there during the past month. It is keep your eye, you know."

In the Future.
"Don't be foolish about it," exclaimed the young bride, "it's merely an old flame of mine."
"Indeed?" cried her aunt but wealthy husband. "I suppose you dream of his tender advances yet?"
"No," she replied, with a far away look, "not yet."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Interrupted.
"Eliza, you'll never again get me out at 4 o'clock to eat the grass."
"David, I wanted you to do it before it got hot."

"Well, Eliza, it got hot in just three minutes. I hadn't cut five strokes before the people on both sides of us threw two hindlegs and four alarm clocks at me."—Detroit Free Press.

Admitted.
"To you know," his confidential clerk, breaking it to him as delicately as he could, "that some people accuse you of leading a double life?"
"My George, I do not," exclaimed Mr. Spotsman, the eminent merchant. "I work twice as hard as any man in my corner."—Chicago Tribune.

Used according to directions, Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Digestive Cordial will afford relief in the most acute form of summer complaint. Whenever the attack manifests itself no time should be lost in seeking the aid of the Cordial. It will act immediately on the stomach and intestines and allay the irritation and pain. A trial of it will convince anyone of the truth of these assertions.

"How is that horse you bought?"
"Well," answered the man who always tries to be optimistic, "his legs ain't very good and his head have a few cracks in them and his mind is poor, but he has a great appetite."—Washington Star.

Ills of Childhood, How to Cure Them

In thousands of homes Baby's Own Tablets is the only medicine used when children are ailing, and the mother who keeps this medicine on hand may feel as safe as though there was a doctor constantly in the house. Baby's Own Tablets cure all stomach and bowel troubles, break up colic, expel worms, and make everything easy. The mother has the guarantee of a government analyst that this medicine contains no opiate or poisonous soothing stuff. Mrs. H. H. Bonnyman, Mattal, N. S., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my little girl, and she has been cured for constipation, and think there is no medicine can equal them. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Seagulls of Auchmuthe.
In the fishing village of Auchmuthe, one frequently witnesses seagulls flying into the houses of the fishermen and partaking of food from their hands. One of these sea birds was in the habit of staying in a fisherman's house all the year round except at the breeding season, when it left about a fortnight ago, while the gull was away, the fisherman, removed his house some three and a half miles from the former place.
The fisherman never expected to see his old friend the gull again. It was therefore, much to his astonishment that he beheld on a recent Sunday the sea bird come walking into his new residence with its mate, to resume his old familiarities and household ways.—London Spectator.

MAGISTRATE SPEAKS FOR ZAM-BUK

Magistrate Perry, of Goldfields, B.C., believes in making a good thing known. Writing of Zam-Buk, the great household ointment, he says: "After a very fair trial I have proved Zam-Buk eminently satisfactory. In my case it cured a skin rash of several years' standing which no doctor had been able to do any good for. I would certainly encourage any person to keep Zam-Buk in his home." The magistrate is quite right. Every home needs Zam-Buk! Unequalled for cuts, burns, bruises, eczema, blood poisoning and all skin diseases. All sores and dressings sell it at 50 cents a box. Sure cure for piles.

DON'T NEGLECT THAT SORE!

A Chicago man has just died from blood poisoning in consequence of neglecting a small sore. Don't neglect a cut, a patch of eczema, or an open sore of any kind. The air is full of poison germs, waiting to start up their evil results in neglected sores, wounds, etc. In Zam-Buk is safety. Zam-Buk is so highly antiseptic that applied to any abscess or injury it makes blood poisoning impossible. In using Zam-Buk you have three purposes going on at once for Zam-Buk is healing, soothing and antiseptic. Try it without delay.

A GENUINE OFFER.

TEST ZAM-BUK AT OUR EXPENSE!

We appreciate the position taken by the man or woman who says: "If your preparation is what you claim, you should have no objection to letting us try it before spending our money on it." To every person taking this view we say, send one cent stamp (to pay return postage) and name and date of this paper to Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, and we will mail you a free trial box of Zam-Buk. Zam-Buk is purely herbal, suitable for the delicate skin of little children, yet powerful enough to heal chronic sores of all children. All dressings and sores, 50c. per box, 3 for $1.25.

Retort Courteous.

In a London auction room two men were disputing the possession of a picture by a celebrated English painter, which represented an ass. Each seemed determined to outbid the other. Finally one of them said: "My dear sir, it is of no use. I shall not give in. The painting once belonged to my grandfather, and I intend to have it."
"Oh, in that case," replied the rival suitor, "I will give it up. I think you are entitled to it if it is one of your family portraits." At which there was great laughter.—The Bells.

Minard's Liniment for sale everywhere

A Thriller.—Slow Waiter—Have I ever been in the country, sir? No, sir. Why do you ask?
Tired Customer—I was just thinking how thrilling you find it to sit on the fence and watch the tortoise whizz by.—Puck-McUp.

Sleeplessness.—Sleep is the great restorer and to be deprived of it is a vital loss. Whatever may be the cause of it, indigestion, nervous depression or mental worry, try a course of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. By regulating the action of the stomach where the trouble lies, they will restore normal conditions and healthful sleep will follow. They exert a sedative force upon the nerves and where there is unrest they bring rest.

"I've often wondered," said the thoughtful man, "why they throw old shoes and slippers after a brilliant couple, but I think I see the idea now."

"Yes," answered the other.
"And I suppose the idea is that they fit in nicely for spanking purposes in the future."—Philadelphia Press.

The Adventurous Felina.

"Tello," is this the electric company? Do you take cats down? Yes, cat! One is on a pole and crying just terribly. She must have been up there a week for she's just as thin.—What? Oh, this is Fifty-ninth avenue! A big dog is barking at her, too, and she—What street? Why, I don't know. I don't live on this street, do I? Oh, yes, of course! Bristol street, the drugist says. Oh, will you? You are so good! And a man just said she is playing with the transformer and might short circuit herself or something. Well, thank you very much. I am so glad! Goodbye!"

The Considerate Wife.

"Mrs. Rogers is a perfect slave to her husband."
"What does she do?"
"Would you believe it? Every year on his birthday she gets up in time to eat breakfast with him."—Judge's Library.

Short Memory.

"My wife," groaned Bradley, "is the most forgetful woman."
"Indeed?" queried his friend politely.
"Yes. She can never remember in the morning where I left my pipe the night before."

Farm Life Is Best.

Farmers are our greatest consumers as well as our greatest producers. When farmers stop buying, consumers must stop producing whether it be automobiles, machinery, lumber, dry goods and even groceries. And towns have become too heavy with population as compared with our rural population—hence so many men out of employment in the east. The question so often discussed in the past years of the rural population "on the farm" is in a fair way of solving itself. "Back to the farm" is now the cry of hundreds, yes thousands, who realize that it is all right to be a tradesman or a mechanic when times are good, but it is impossible to support a wife and family when out of employment. They remember also that before they left the farm for the city they were never in danger of being without food or work. They realize now that a farm is as good, yes better, than a fat bank account, for a farm cannot slip away as a bank account may do. They know that there may be hard work and difficulties to surmount on the farm, but they also know that no class of people can keep our country sustain themselves with their own products to such an extent as can farmers. They also know that in the years go by younger men are apt to supplant them in their trades, while if they own farms they need never fear want in their old age. Farmers' sons—young men will think twice before giving up the farm to swell the ranks of the unemployed in our cities.

In one sense it is a good thing that so many men came west. They can see for themselves what our farmers have been doing, and are doing—and this fact alone has brought about a situation of affairs that are still uncorrected. Homesteads of 160 acres can be obtained for $100 entry fee. Not more than 160 acres of arable land are as yet cultivated. It looks as if the day had come for our older cities to mark time until our prairies catch up with our counterbalancing population.—Hugh McKellar.

Cheapest of All Oils.—Considering the curative qualities of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil it is the cheapest of all preparations offered to the public. It is to be found in every drug store in Canada from coast to coast and all country merchants keep it for sale. So, being easily procurable and extremely moderate in price, no one should be without a bottle of it.

The hobo had just finished dining. "If you will excuse me," he said to the kind lady, "I will now leave the table." And after his departure the k. L. discovered that the table was about all he had left.—Chicago Daily News.

Diphtheria is spread by the common house fly. Wilson's Fly Pads are the best fly killers known. Refuse unsatisfactory substitutes.

Curious Collection.

The most curious collection of books, shoes and slippers is stated to be in the possession of an Englishman, Brach Smith. Besides specimens of every successive age, beginning with the shoe of Noah, there are many others, some of which are of historic or romantic interest is attached—e.g., the shoe of Noah, the shoes of Charles II's court, including the Duchess of Cleveland, the Countess of Warrister, and in the hands of the Duke of Devonshire, the Duke of Grammont, with those of Miss Jennings and Miss Warrister. The most curious of the collection is the shoe of the Duke of Devonshire, which, according to the labels, by Rochester and Killgrew. There is an entire compartment devoted to some of the shoes worn by the Society des Petite Pieds, over which the member of the committee foot prouided until she was displaced.

Electric Light Proposition is Off.

The Council met on Monday night and all the Councillors with the Mayor, Secretary Rhy and Solicitor Macleod present.

A letter was received from Mr. Lott re the park site, but nothing definite was stated in regard to the extra land wanted.

A communication was also received from Allen & Munson, the owners of the land east of the track, stating that they would allow the council to make improvements on same, also stating that as soon as they surveyed their property they would register the streets.

The electric light question again came up, and the Council were prepared with a bylaw to put before the ratepayers.

Mr. Cook was present and asked the Council to give him the privilege of waiting eight months before the plant would be installed.

The Council felt that they had given Mr. Cook all the encouragement possible, but that it would not be right for them to tie the town down for this length of time, and the whole thing is dropped.

The by-laws for purchasing the chemical fire engines and building a town hall were then taken up and read twice.

The ash question was again taken up and a bylaw passed that all householders and ratepayers must provide a proper fire proof receptacle for holding ashes, not less than 30 inches in circumference, and the constable was instructed to enforce the bylaw.

The sample lamp which has been placed near the Opera House has been in use nearly thirty days, the time given for the trial, and the Council took up the question of purchasing more of these lights, as this one was satisfactory. It was decided by unanimous vote of the Council that eight of these lights be purchased at $60.50 each.

The sidewalk which is to be laid in East Didsbury is to be extended from the Methodist church to Hespeler street.

Resignations from the Council Board were handed in by Councillors Shantz and Smith.

Nearly half of the councillors were asleep by this time as it was 11.30 p.m. but they awakened with a start and wanted to know the why and wherefore after the resignations had been accepted, it transpired that the Councillors were looking for higher honors.

Agricultural Society's Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Agricultural Society was held in the Council Chamber on Monday afternoon last. There were not as many members present as there should have been but the ones who were there are the men who do things, and who are interested enough to wish to see the Didsbury Society prosper.

President Sexsmith called the meeting to order and the minutes of the last annual meeting were read and adopted.

Secretary-Treasurer Atkins then gave the following statement for the year 1908:

The balance is not given as some cheques that are out have not been cashed, but it will be in the neighborhood of $750.

The report was adopted as read.

J. J. Johnston had submitted a protest against entire coits being shown in the yearling heavy draft class.

On motion by Messrs. Moyle and Dageforde the protest was sustained as it was the fault of the Directors in making up the prize list.

A committee composed of the Secretary and Mr. Rupp, was appointed to arrange the matter.

The election of officers for 1909 was next taken up.

President Sexsmith made a short speech in which he congratulated the Society on its standing and incidentally stated that he would not be eligible for any office on the Board for the next year.

Officers elected—President Fred Moyle; 1st. Vice-President, W. Rupp; and Vice-President, R. Glenn; Sec. Treas., H. B. Atkins; Auditors, J. Reed and A. Studer.

Directors—T. Reirt, F. S. Krempin, W. Hardy, W. Mueller, J. W. Dageforde, J. Gilmore, P. Johnston D. S. Shantz, D. Witwer, J. Liesemer, W. Hunsperger, Dr. Gaddes, John Belamy, and A. McNaughton.

Several recommendations were suggested for the new board of directors amongst them being a spring show for entire horses, which was enthusiastically received.

Mr. Fred Moyle then thanked them for electing him to the President's chair and also commended those who had done so much to push the Didsbury Fair.

The speech was replied to by the retiring President and Secretary Atkins

TRIBULATIONS of JIMMY

Sponge-Gathering

THE MAN DOCTOR WOULD EXAMINE JIMMY FREQUENTLY

JIMMY considers himself a much-abused chimpanzee. And perhaps Jimmy is right. In the first place, it wasn't very nice to be taken away from a pleasant home in western equatorial Africa, where Jimmy was just beginning to enjoy life. He had outgrown his mother's care. No longer need he sit in the nest high up among leafy boughs, where the fascinating banter of his mother would vibrate him when he leaned too far over the edge to eat at his father, squinting beneath. And he was now able to scamper away with the other young monkeys, playing among the fragrant and cooling nuts and luscious fruits. Truly, Jimmy had glorious times then.

But the day came when Jimmy was captured by hunters, carried a long distance through the forest and then placed in a big ship, which bore him thousands of miles across the ocean. So Jimmy came to live in a cage near a great many chattering monkeys. Jimmy himself did not feel like chattering. He was too sad to utter the harsh, piercing cries that he used to employ in calling to his playmates in Africa. Not that these Men People did not try to amuse him; oh, they tried to make the best of their care. In fact, Jimmy was regarded more highly by them than he was among the Chimpanzee People. But here there was no tree to climb in fun to be had. And the climate didn't agree with him. When the Man Doctor would examine Jimmy—say he did every now and then—he would frown and shake his head. Of course, the doctor must have known that all that was necessary to bring Jimmy back to health was to send him home. But Jimmy wasn't sent home. He must be kept where the Men People could look at him.

It was hard for a chimpanzee to be contented amid such surroundings. Jimmy really began to try his best, however, and how he plays in a friendly fashion with his keepers, talks to them in queer little grunts and even does amusing little tricks. Yet he cannot forget his grievance against these cruel Men People, and at times—especially when he's feeling worse than usual—he curls himself up in a corner and dreams and dreams of the Chimpanzee Park in Africa, and wonders why the Man Doctor and the keepers, who really seem quite fond of him, don't prove their friendship by sending him back to his own home and his own people. Jimmy is sure the Chimpanzee Folk would never capture a man and keep him prisoner among the trees in Africa just for the chimpanzees and gorillas and monkeys to look at.

Why She Liked It

A CERTAIN cheryman met a little boy outside the rectory. "Do you go to church, my boy?" he asked. "Yes, sir," replied the boy; "and my mother does. She says she always likes the day that you preach."

"Yes? And why not?" interrogated the much-pedaled cheryman.

"Why, sir, she says she can always get a good rest then."

A-fluting A-piping

IN years when knights fought valiantly to win fair ladies' smiles, when heroes slew their dragons, and magicians practiced guile, through highways and through hedges, with merry wit and song and instruments full well attuned, his minstrels tripped along A-fluting and a-piping day by day. Of all the clever troubadours who visited the court, there were two minstrels unexcelled, according to report: Their carolings and warblings even birds to list would come; Each player found his hearers wore a spell that held them dumb. "Now let us have fair trial," said the king into the rest, "For that we may see which minstrel can do the most minstrel best!" Forthwith there went with great intent a messenger to bring the Magicians both and bid them come to play before the king. A-fluting and a-piping measures gay. Together the competitors burst forth in melody, And let surprising sweet the songs no discord could there be; So wondrous well they played that each the other charmed to sleep. "They slumber still and in their dreams continually keep A-fluting and a-piping—well-a-day!"

Trees and Lightning

THERE is a popular belief that certain trees are less likely than others to be struck by lightning, and that during a thunderstorm it is quite safe to stand under a beech, for example, while the danger under a resinous tree or an oak is, respectively, fifteen or twenty times greater. This is disputed in a recent writing by Dr. A. W. Rothwick in his "Notes of the Royal Botanical Garden of Edinburgh." He says that as a general rule, the beech is struck quite as often as the oak, and the latter is not so much struck. Contrary to what is believed by some people, the cells are not ruptured or torn by the formation of steam, as might happen if the heating by the electric current was very great. The cells collapse and shrink up, but are never torn. The cell system does not seem to be ever damaged by lightning.

"YOU ASK me why I like to go To school day after day; I'll tell you, if you wish to know," Said Jimmy's sister, May, "It's all because I want to do My best to please mama. And also try my hardest to please Papa. I make glad my dear papa."

I'd simply have to miss one face Or lose a single lace, I'd always have a splendid comely, You see, At home it would be most humdrum. John's sister, May, did not. "Such interesting things you learn," Replied Jimmy's sister, May, "Bright faces and glory, too. If possible, I'd like to be As wise as father, and I therefore must work busily So I can understand." Of Johnny, then I made request For him to tell the reason— Since he did not appear depressed— He would always return to the cottage. Arabelle would have been ever so lonely had Johnny not been there. One day when she was gathering muscels along the shore she ventured out over the rocks and the tide stood high. Here, amid the pools and

"UNCLE HENRY should be here shortly," observed Geoffrey; "you know he promised that we should see the sponge-fishing today." "Yes, but don't let's wait for him," replied Bob, as the lads refrained their steps along the quay. "Abe's over there, and he's just going to put out."

Abe readily agreed, with a huge grin on his shining black face, to take the boys out to the fishing grounds in his open boat. But he warned them to hurry, because the schooner that was to tow his boat was ready to start.

"Can't you row out yourself?" asked Bob.

Thereupon Abe explained how much time was saved by permitting a larger vessel to tow him out, although some of the smaller craft did cover the distance to the grounds without assistance. In return for the schooner's assistance Abe said he would have to give them a certain part of his day's catch.

"Uncle Henry told me the sponge fisheries here in the Bahamas are open all the year round, and that about 600 schooners and sloops and 2500 open boats are used," remarked Geoffrey.

"And more than 600 men and boys—all colored—are employed, working from the time they are boys until they are too old and feeble to continue the fishing any longer," added Bob.

Once at the fishing grounds, Abe took from the boat a wooden cone, about eighteen inches in length, covered with glass at one end and open at the other. This glass he placed just beneath the surface of the water. "By looking through it the boys could then see the bed of the ocean. Seeing a lone eel, or a school of fish, the boys would proceed to tear off the sponges he saw through the glass."

Bob turned to him in surprise. "Why, I thought you dived for them," said he. "Sometimes," replied Abe, with another grin, "when the waves deep—but not often."

The sponges grew in abundance and the boats soon made a good haul. As soon as the lads returned to shore they ran quickly home with the sponge Abe had given them, so that they might examine it under a microscope.

At Uncle Henry's suggestion they placed the sponge in a tub containing salt water. "By means of a lens they saw a jelly-like mass, from which grew small, hair-like white threads lashed the water, driving away impurities," as Uncle Henry explained, and bringing in food for the many pores to absorb. He said the boys had yellow back grew on these sponges at the bottom of the sea, and how, after a time, they loosened themselves and with the aid of little hair-like pullers swam away to become sponges on their own account. Geoffrey, who had been looking with some perplexity at the sponge, now exclaimed:

"But how in the world can any one use such a thing as this for a sponge?" "They don't," replied Uncle Henry, emphatically, "but not before but all this gelatin-like matter is squeezed out, and washed away."

SILSDON DIVE FOR SPONGES

"And in a great industry, my boy," continued he, "why, no less than 250,000 pounds are shipped from here yearly. Do you know how little a sponge weighs?"

Geoffrey and Bob were much impressed. "We'll surely get out with Abe again to learn about this curious fishing," said they—and they did.

The Real Boss

THE insurance agent climbed the stairs and rang the bell.

"Whom do you wish to see?"

asked the caretaker person who came to the door.

"I want to see the boss of the house," replied the insurance agent. "Are you ready to burn about this curious fishing?" said they—and they did.

"No," meekly returned the man who came to the door; "I'm only the busband of the boss. Step in, I'll call the boss."

The insurance agent took a seat in the hall, and in a short time a tall, dignified woman appeared.

"So you want to see the boss?" repeated the woman. "Well, just step into the kitchen. This way, please."

Bridget, this gentleman desires to see you."

"Me th' boss?" exclaimed Bridget.

When the insurance man asked her the question, "Are you the boss of the house?"

She pointed to a small boy of ten years who was coming toward the house.

"Tell me," pleaded the insurance agent, when they had come into the kitchen, "are you the boss of the house?"

"Want to see the boss?" asked the boy. "Well, you just come with me."

Wearily the insurance agent climbed up the stairs. He was ushered into a room on the second floor and guided to the crib of a sleeping baby.

"There!" exclaimed the boy; "that's the real boss of this house!"

Kind Deeds Bring Their Reward.

Story of a Girl and a Goose

THOUGH it was very early, Arabelle's work was over for the morning. For there was not a great deal to do in the humble fisherman's cottage. A snug little building of stone, with neatly thatched roof, it was quite big and comfortable enough for the father and mother and the tiny lass who dwelt within.

The simple chores were soon done and hours of play remained. Along the beach Arabelle wandered, for the waves and the sand, and the wonders they disclosed, were the only playmates she had. They were great company, however; for did the little lass feel the need of other companionship until those came. And Goose arrived in this way.

While skimming over the smoothly washed sands Arabelle believed she saw something white and feathery struggling in the sand. It did not take her long to find a poor goose, helpless because a wing was broken.

"You poor, dear thing!" sobbed Arabelle, in pity for the maimed bird. And the goose appealed to her with his eyes, just as though he knew he would have died. He was not deceived, for the lass raised him tenderly in her arms and carried him all the way back to the cottage. Here she allowed his suffering, attending and nursing him until the wing was strong again and he was able to continue his flight.

But Goose had become so fond of Arabelle that he refused to leave her, although the little girl straightway gave him his freedom as soon as he was well. Every day he would come to her to be fed, and when he was given distances he would always return to the cottage. Arabelle would have been ever so lonely had Johnny not been there.

One day when she was gathering muscels along the shore she ventured out over the rocks and the tide stood high. Here, amid the pools and crevices of the rock she found many of the muscels she sought.

So busy was she that she did not perceive that the tide had turned, until she found her retreat cut off from the beach. Water now lay all around the little island. She knew she could not reach the shore safely; she knew, too, that soon the waves would sweep over the rock upon which she stood. No wonder she was frightened.

TOWED TO SHORE.

Almost in despair was she when there came a familiar flapping of wings at her ears, and Goose circled about her. The next moment Arabelle seized the bird's legs and the strong goose towed her through the water to the shore in a jiffy.

Goose had not forgotten the kindness shown him, and to prove his gratitude he had saved his young mistress.

Polmatier Sisters Coming

The season's amusement event will certainly be on Tuesday evening next when the famous Polmatier Sisters, Orchestra and Concert Company appear in the Opera House.

This season a larger, grander and more varied programme than ever will be presented. An all-time this season is the clever humorous and dramatic entertainers, which adds much to the evenings enjoyment. A special elaborate wardrobe and scenic equipment is a feature also this season. The famous sisters commence a tour of the world in June, and this will be the last chance to hear them for some time. Seats are now selling at Chamber's drug store.

Ghost Pine

We are pleased to hear that a Temperance wave is agitating the settlers. The C.E.E.L. is to be congratulated.

We feel sorry for the threshing crew having to move Sunday last, but they did not want to see the happy home broken up.

There is a good deal of a box sold at the school house on December 18th. Everybody welcome.

Any one wanting a hired man please call at Ferry's store.

The threshers hope to strike J. Nichols place for Sunday as he puts up a good breakfast.

Mr. Adwell is thinking about getting some mules as he intends to do a lot of breaking in the spring. He is now busy putting up a stable.

Sunnyslope

Winter has struck Sunnyslope at last. Mr. and Mrs. George Kiefer appeared in the happy young couple long life and prosperity.

Mr. Hiebert and party visited Sunnyslope with his handsome new touring car on Friday.

The dance in Sunnyslope on Friday evening was a huge success; everybody having an enjoyable evening, thanks to the genial proprietor of the Sunnyslope Hotel, Dan McKinnon.

Mr. Hollinger has opened up a harness business in Sunnyslope.

Sunnyslope was the scene of a very pretty wedding Saturday evening, when Mr. C. W. Scott of Los Angeles, Cal., and Miss Egan North of Port Colborne, Ont., were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Mr. R. Hollinger acting as Best Man and Miss Tassie as Bridesmaid, Rev. Gratz officiating. After hearty congratulations, the invited friends present were served with a splendid supper.

Mr. Scott, who has been teaching at Salem school, is a general favorite in Sunnyslope, and will be greatly missed by his many friends here.

A Progressive Publication

The special Thanksgiving number of the Canadian Pictorial, recently received, shows in addition to its wealth of beautiful harvest pictures and other fine photographs, several new and interesting features which are to be continued with other attractions in the enlarged and improved Christmas number, in course of preparation. One of these is a complete story: a series of Old Favourite Songs, words and music complete, which will appear in each issue. Remarkable as has been the popularity of this splendid publication, the public are assured that the best is yet to come. Every issue of this monthly art portfolio would form a capital souvenir to send to friends abroad. None better, to cents a copy, $1.00 a year. The Pictorial Publishing Co., 142, St. Peter street, Montreal.

Siebertville

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. McCaig when their oldest daughter, Mary Jane was united in marriage to Henry Herman. The Rev. D. Rieder officiated. Only immediate friends and relations were invited. In the evening a tin can party made their appearance to celebrate the event according to their peculiar fashion but Mr. Herman promptly gave the necessary tip and thus avoided a clash.

The following party expect to take advantage of the Christmas Eastern Excursion Rates as soon as valid. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bouck. Miss S. R. Brackel and Mrs. Pear.

The literary society which was first organized last winter has again been re-organized for the season, the following officers being elected, E. A. Rieder, President; L. Siebert, Vice-President; Miss H. Shaw, Secretary; H. Herman, Treasurer. They will hold a night social on December 22nd. More particulars will be given later.

Quarterly service was held by P. E. Wagner last Sunday evening.

Sad Death

The residents of Didsbury were shocked on learning on Sunday morning that Miss Elizabeth Nixon, daughter of Mr. J. Nixon the jeweler, had died suddenly on Saturday evening at 8.30 p.m. in the Hospital at Calgary. The young lady had a little cold for a few days previous but was only taken to the hospital on Saturday morning suffering from pneumonia, but the immediate cause of death was the breaking of a blood vessel in the lungs, from which she expired in a few moments. The sad occurrence was a great shock to the family who had received a very favorable report by telephone just a few hours previous. Miss Nixon had been employed in the telephone exchange at Calgary, since coming to Alberta from Belfast, Ireland, some two or three years ago. The funeral took place to Didsbury cemetery on Tuesday, only the immediate friends of the family being present. The large number of beautiful floral wreaths with which the casket was covered testified to the great esteem in which the young lady was held in Calgary.

The parents have the heartfelt sympathy of all who know them in their sudden bereavement of a kind and loving daughter.

A PHYSICAL WRECK

Formula. For a Lotion and Cream to Remove Them.

The woman who freckles easily and dreads the summer time is to be pitied.

Tan and sunburn are unsightly and painful, but after awhile they disappear. But not so with freckles. They will remain through the winter months unless something is done to remove them. This, as all know from experience, is much easier said than done. They are as stubborn to remove as a willful child when it is necessary to make him obey.

The following formula is said to be one of the best to remove them: Lactic acid, four ounces; glycerine, two ounces; rosewater, one ounce.

Apply this lotion to the face several times during the day. Put a small portion in a dish and dip a soft linen rag into it and apply.

All skins will not stand the same treatment, and while some may use this lotion or other face lotions with no ill effect, others may suffer from a burning sensation of the skin.

To prevent this burning it will be better to massage the face after using the lotion with this ether flower cream:

Almond oil, three ounces; white wax, five drams; spermaceti, five drams; ether flower water, one ounce; white hazel, one ounce; ether flower water, three ounces; oil of bitter almonds, one dram.

Massage the skin with this every night and one will be well repaid for the little trouble. The skin will be soft and supple and a dainty white. If the skin is inclined to be rough and dry, it will be beneficial.

This cream is not only good to use after the freckles have been removed, but it will take away the roughness and give the skin a delicate appearance.

Eight bottles of Peruna brought back my strength.

Mr. A. O. Harding, 503 W. 146 St., New York City, formerly one of the leading druggists of Prescott, Ont., has been presented with a twenty-five year Medal of Honor in Old Fellowship. He writes as follows:

"Ever since I have been handling Peruna, I have had a fine trade. Once a family buys a bottle, I am sure of selling them more, and it never fails to bring additional customers."

"I have nothing better for catarrh in all of its various forms. As a household remedy it is without compare, splendid for mothers and excellent for children."

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional treatment. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or impediment hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out, and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are cured by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

One way is to pay no attention to it; at least not until it develops into pneumonia, or bronchitis, or pleurisy. Another way is to ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. If he says, "The best thing for colds," then take it. Do as he says, anyway.

When You Take Cold

One way is to pay no attention to it; at least not until it develops into pneumonia, or bronchitis, or pleurisy. Another way is to ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. If he says, "The best thing for colds," then take it. Do as he says, anyway.

WINNIPEG MAN CURED OF RHEUMATISM

Remarkable Case of Cure After Specialists Failed.

Winnipeg, Man.—A prominent resident of this City, who for personal reasons did not wish his name mentioned publicly, but who permits us to show his letter to interested enquirers, writes to say that he was suddenly taken with excruciating pains in the back and side, which were pronounced by his physicians as Rheumatism. Hot applications were at once resorted to, the usual medicines administered, supplemented by electrical treatment, but all to no purpose. In his desperation he took Gin Pills on his own account, and a few hours after taking the first pill the pains commenced to subside. He continued taking them and in 48 hours he had not an ache or a pain left. Gin Pills are sold at 50c a box for $2.50. Send us if you fear dealer does not handle them. Sample box free if you mention this paper.

The Malacca Wildcats.

In the forests of Malacca and other islands in the Indian Ocean may still be found the animal known as a wildcat. The upper parts of it are generally of a clear yellow color, with black spots; the lower parts are white, with black spots also. On the back the spots lengthen almost into lines of rings, black or yellow.

The average length of the animal, excluding the tail, is about two feet, the tail averages nine inches. Its height when standing erect is about 12 inches at the shoulders, and fifteen inches at the hindquarters. Its temper is mild and gentle; it plays almost like a domestic cat, or rather kitten, chasing its tail and amusing itself with anything that it can roll with its paws.—London Standard.

There may be other corn cures, but Holloway's Corn Cure stands at the head of the list so far as results are concerned.

"That snobbish fellow declares he has been presented at court. He says he was presented by a grand lord." "Much more likely he was presented by a grand jury."—Baltimore American.

Minard's Liniment Cures Burns, etc.

"Say, dear, is your Suffragette League to have buttons?"

"Yes."

"I'll go ahead and join. I need one of the buttons on my trousers right now."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Sweet and palatable, Mother Graves' Worm Extirminator is acceptable to children, and it does its work surely and promptly.

"What caused that awkward break in the conversation?" "Someone dropped the subject."—Argonaut.

Three packets of Wilson's Fly Pads cost twenty-five cents, and will kill more than twenty-five dollars' worth of sticky paper.

"Is Chloey pretty?"

"Why, old man, she's almost as pretty as her mother thinks she is."—Harper's Bazar.

Penalty of Riches.

The Durham, Eng., miner, Thomas Barnett Douglas, who recently established his claim to a fortune of considerably over £100,000, has received hundreds of beggar letters since his good luck was made known.

One writer asks for money for the education of a girl. The most amusing massive came from Steiner, London, the composer of certain tunes, which he desired to have set to music, "for anthems and cantatas," he says, "these men who put down tunes do charge such a lot."

When Riley and Carman Met.

James W. Riley, of Illinois, and Eliza Carman, of Ohio, came to a long-standing in a fight, did not meet till comparatively recently. It was in Washington, and the Canadian poet, whose head is fully six feet four inches above the ground, was walking down Pennsylvania avenue with a friend.

Observing Riley approach and knowing that the two poets had never met, the Washingtonian took occasion to introduce them.

Struggling with suppressed emotion, the laureate of childhood dropped his eyes to the pavement, gradually permitted his glance to travel upward as though analyzing a new species of skyscraper and with an expression of infinitesimal drooping ejaculated: "Well, by Jove! Your parents must have trained you on a trellis."—Success Magazine.

Real Circus.

"What are you laughing so much about, Bobby?" asked the caller.

"Just look at a one ring circus," chuckled Bobby.

"But, as a rule, one ring circuses are not funny, Bobby."

"I know," said his mother, "but under the soft white Sister Sue's leon was slithering the ring on her finger, and just as he knickered on the rug I stuck my hand into his side and he jumped six feet, knickered over the cushion clock, started off the burglar alarm, and the bull pup chased him out of the window. For a circus, what a circus!"—Chicago News.

Curious and Quaint Epitaphs

Early in the last century there lived in an old New England town a Mr. Church who was bereft of four wives, all of whom were buried in the same lot. In his old age it became necessary to remove the remains to a new cemetery. This he undertook himself, but in the process the bones became hopelessly mixed. His "New England conscience" would not allow him under the painful circumstances, to use the original headstones, so he procured new ones, one of which bore the following inscription:

"Here lies Hannah Church and probably a portion of Emily."

Another:

"Sacred to the memory of Emily Church, who seems to be mixed with Matilda."

Then followed these lines:

"Stranger, pause and drop a tear,
For Emily Church lies buried here,
Mixed in some perplexing manner
With Mary, Matilda and probably Hannah."

In an old churchyard in Brandon, Vermont, a headstone over the grave of a child who died at the age of a few days has inscribed upon it the following:

"Sweet maid, she glanced into our world to see

A sample of our misery;
She turned away her languid eye
To drop a tear or two and sigh.

"Sweet maid, she tasted of life's bitter cup,
Refused to drink her portion up;
She turned her little head aside,
Disgusted with the taste and died."
